President Van Horne, of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, Talks About the Pacific Roads.

His Line, He Says, Not an Eager Com petitor for Business to the Pacific Coast.

Manager Towne and Other American Railway Magnates Scored for the Way They do Business.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—President Van Horne, of the Canadian Pacific railway, in an elaborate interview published here today regarding the movement to restrict competition of Canadian roads in the United States, says: "In this case Judge Cooley has apparently formed his opinion without giving the defendant an opportunity to be heard. The Canadian Pacific is not and never has been an eager competitor for freight traffic between the eastern and the Pacific coast states. It has an arbitary rate to its connections at both of its terminals on such traffic, and those arbitary rates leave too little profit to make the traffic worth fighting for. The trans-continental association was formed in January, 1888, and the Canadian Pacific joined it at

The Canadian Pacific was used by them as a bug-bear in their attempt to prevent the passage of the inter-state commerce act, and its use as bug-bear has been conditionation of the act."

You was used by them as a bug-bear in their attempt to prevent the passage of the inter-state commerce act, and its use as bug-bear has been conditionation of the act."

You wanted the wince and the inter-state commerce act, and its use as bug-bear has been conditionation of the act. "The ong and short of it seems to be that the Canada Pacific was built for cash by those who intended to permanently hold and work it; that no profits were taken by construction companies or credit mobiliers, and that its bonds and stock represent actual cash invested, not substitute the profit was a company of the case of some others of the Pacific indo not which, according to Mr. Towns seems to think.

You wanted the Canadian Pacific was built for cash by those who intended to permanently hold and work it; the beginning.

"They have not forgotten how their Pacific roads were built nor how the Central Pacific conducted its monopoly in the Pacific coast trade for so many years. Surely it will be long before the people of California will forget it."

The Union Pacific's New Rolling Stock. Washington special: The first case of importance which Mr. Taylor, the new nmissioner of railroads, has taken hold of is that of the Union Pacific. The road turned in an account of $2,125,000 paid for rolling stock, but Mr. Taylor asserts that it does not own any part of the rolling stock. The road has issued a trust bond for the stock, and the entire equipment is owned by a trust company in New York. As this road pays 25 per cent of its earnings to the government, the reported expense would make a difference of over $500,000. The commissioner says that it is time enough to deduct this sum when the money is paid for the rolling stock, and the contract with the trust company does not expire for ten the trust company does not expire for ten years. He has already begun proceedings to compel the road to pay the amount or show better legal grounds why it should

T. C. Power's Conduct Two Years Ago Seals His Fate Now.

C.S. Fell, of the Fergus County Argus, has arrived here on his way to the Anaconda convention, to which he is a delegate. He says a new county central committee has been elected, composed of five lively, energetic members. The party, he says, is united and will poll a heavy vote. Registration will reduce the poll of the county by at least 300 votes. Republicans are cursing their own party for introducing it in the country districts. He says the nomination of county officers has been deferred, as it was not included in the regular call. Judge Bach and party returned this evening from Belt creek, where they were encamped. They had much success in fishing. Hon. J. B. Leslie is the choice of the Cascade delegates for district jddge. His

Fortunate Escape of Passengers from a

Horrible Fate. NEW YORK, Aug. 24 .- The Pacific Mail steamship City of Para, with twenty-nine cabin passengers, arrived at Sandy Hook this morning from Aspinwall. The awnngs of her forward hatch were burned and scorched and she had the outward marks of a big fire which came near destroying the vessel and its precious cargo. The City of Para left New York the first part of this month with a full cargo of merchandise. She reached Aspinwall in due season and the 'longshoremen and sailors had discharged 650 tons of cargo from the hold when fire was discovered among the cotton in the naval stores, which were stowed in the forward compartment. This was on the evening of Aug. II, two days after the vessel's arrival. The fire had gained complete control of the fore hold when discovered, and before the alarm could be sounded great sheets of flame and volumes of smoke filled the air over the forward part of the craft. The flames attracted the attention of the ancient fire department of Aspinwall, which turned out, and with a number of American laborers about the dock, set to work to assist the people of the steamship. All through the night of the 11th men toiled, and several fell exhausted as morning came on, from overwork. The 12th opened with the fire still burning fiercely, and toward noon of that day it looked as if the steamer was doomed. had discharged 650 tons of cargo from the

During the afternoon of the 12th the flames went down as suddenly as they be-gan, and at 4 o'clock Captain Lockwood, skipper of the ship, reported the fire ex-tinguished. A very considerable quantity of the cargo was destroyed, and the inter-lor of the vessel is sadly damaged.

No Meeting at Spokane. SPOKANE FALLS, Aug. 24 .- [Special to the Independent.]—At a meeting of the Washington & Idaho Fair association this afternoon it was decided not to hold the nnual fair this fall. This action is prompted by the fact that it would be impossible on account of the fire to provide nodations for those who would attend. Besides, all the members of the Fair association and citizens generally are too busy to give the matter the attention necessary to insure a successful meeting.

BUTTE, Aug. 24 .- [Special to the Independent.]-To-day was the last day of the meeting of the West Side Fair and Racing Association, and it was, in point of attendtheir platform of principles. The party is ance, the best of the week. About 3,000 harmonious and well organized for the people went out to the grounds. The track was in excellent condition and the weather perfect. The race was won cleverly by Pink, taking the last three heats. Condee was awarded second place, Tramp S., third. It may be mentioned that the second heat was won in good shape by Tramp S. Mutuals paid $107 50 to win and $155 50 for second place, Senator being barred. The few tickets that were sold were held by ladies and gentlemen of Butte, and the gambling fraternity was split wide open. The following is the summary:

Eclipse stakes, handicap sweepstakes of $250 each, with $10,000 added, of which $2,000 went to the second horse, and $1,000 to the third horse, for 2-year-olds, and worth to the winner $26,625, was won this afternoon by El Rio Rey, the unbeaten pride of California. Eberlee was second and Benquet third. The time was 1:14. Twenty-five thousand persons saw the race. The day and track were perfect, weather delightful. The event of the day was fixed for 3:30 o'clock, but it was that time before the racers were summoned to the post by the bugle. As soon as they had all rrived Caldwell got down and said: "Now, boys, this is a big stake and I want all to have a good chance. I am not going to start you until I get into the stand and will start you with a flag, and I will not use my handkerchief. Remember, it will be a flag and I will drop it." All were soon ready but Cameo, who was slow to return, but Henderson turned in front and down went the flag to the best start ever seen on a race track. Of course there was a leader, and Levonia had that honor. She was followed by Cayuga, Devotee, El Rio Rey and Torso, with Cameo and June Day bringing up the rear. It is safe to say there were not two lengths between the nose of the first and the tail of the last one as they swung into the straight stretch. El Rio Rey was in the lead, with Cayuga, Devotee and Levonia next. On they came, seemingly slowly for their speed cannot be judged from the stand. As they rain out of the dip Wenchell shook his whip at the California crack. He instantly shot out a couple of lengths further ahead and then was steadied. "Great heavens," said a well known turfman. "There is only one in it. El the post by the bugle. As soon as they crack. He instantly shot out a couple of lengths further shead and then was steadied. "Great heavens," said a well known turfman. "There is only one in it. El Rio Rey waiks home." It was a fact. He had the field at his mercy and merely played with it. By comparison they hardly appeared to be moving, as he, though only walking in, was able to keep a length shead of his nearest pursuers with the greatest ease. It was all over but the shouting long before the last furlong was reached. Expressions of adoration for the great colt were made all over the stand and lawn. On they came, whipping and spurring, but El Rio Rey's sides and flanks were untouched. As stately as a noble ship salling into harbor he went by the judges, the easiest of easy winners by four lengths, and he might have made it a dozen. Eberle was second, two lengths before Banquet, third. Livonia, Cayuga, June Day, Devotee, Onaway, Cameo, Tarso,

Jersey Pat, Drizzle, Padishah, Chesapeake and Favorite followed as named. A sumary of the other races is as fol-
